Dear Friends and Church family,

Whew! Summertime is here in more ways than one. Do you remember, probably way back to when you were younger, the ice cream truck making its way around your neighborhood? That unmistakable sound of the music played over the loud speaker. It was like a flame to moths.

I remember my pack—the guys I hung out with—chasing that truck through the neighborhood as far and as long as it took to catch up to and get the driver's attention to stop. Ahhh, the cold, rich reward we so thoroughly enjoyed! Six flavors to choose from.

This Sunday, July 18, we will celebrate two baptisms. One at both services. We're so excited to welcome to our church family Cooper Kirby and Riley and Ava Warneck through the waters of baptism. I'm trusting you have already made plans to be in worship this Sunday as we celebrate a sacred time in the life of our community of faith. Come and gather—it's what God's people do!

Oh, and after the late service, join us for the KONA ice truck in the back parking lot for that cold, rich reward of a snow cone in the heat of our Charleston summer. You won't even have to chase the truck and get the driver's attention to enjoy one.

Trusting you will gather with us on Sunday.

Grace and peace,
